Have an 'Exotic Hypnotic' summer at Dylan's

SPECIAL TO THE BEACH NEWS

HAMPTON BEACH | After more than years at the Riviera Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas, "The Exotic Hypnotic Show" — featuring Richard Anthony and some "special guests" — opens Friday, July 1 at Dylan's Beachside Restaurant for an extended run through Seafood Festival weekend, September 9-11.

The Exotic Hypnotic Show has been entertaining audiences across the US since 1990. The rave reviews from Atlantic City to Las Vegas are a testimony to a show that is described in the Las Vegas "Review Journal" as "hypnauty and hypfunny side-splitting comedy entertainment."

The brand new version of the show combines some of the best elements of shows that have been performed in the last few years, with fresh and hilarious new bits that have just been introduced in Las Vegas. And while the show is definitely "risqué" and adult-oriented, it does not cross the line to raunchy.

Volunteers on stage are treated to a wild and hilari-stage volunteer, or Brad Pitt might just want to meet one of the ladies onstage.

But whether people choose to get onstage and be part of the show, or just sit in the audience and see the show, they'll all leave talking about the great time they had for many days after the show. And as an added bonus, Richard often offers to help people with the therapeutic side of hypnosis after the performances.

The show comes direct from Las Vegas for this summer only, so if you missed one of the rare appearances here ... don't miss this one! Performances are scheduled for every Friday, Saturday and Sunday night at Dylan's Beachside Restaurant, located at 81 Ocean Boulevard, Hampton Beach. For more information or to reserve tickets for the show, call Dylan's at (603) 929-2077.

ously funny trip through the worlds of "Playboy" and "Playgirl." Meanwhile, the audience becomes interactive "players" in the mix, as stage volunteers "see" them in all sorts of new ways that have they'll have to see to believe! An ordinary housewife might appear to be a Angelina Jolie to a male
