Ten Questions with Bill Teschek

You've probably seen Bill around the library for years and now's your chance to learn more about him. His answers to the following questions were fascinating as were his suggestions for some interesting books.

1. What do you like best about your job?

"Lots of things, but my favorite is getting information on the history of Hampton onto the library's website."

2. If you weren't working at the library, what would you be doing for a living?

"If I had to earn a living it would probably be something in the area of computer service and repair. If money was no object it would be writing genealogy and local history books."

3. What are some of your hobbies?

"Genealogy, reading, golf, downhill skiing, travel."

4. What is your favorite book and why?

"Hampton and Hampton Beach, because I wrote it. As for other books, I couldn't possibly pick a favorite. I have too many that I like."

5. What is the last book that you read?

"A suspense novel by Kevin Guilfoile titled "Cast of Shadows". It was quite good with lots of twist and turns and it ended with none of the characters having the full picture of what went on. Only the reader knows it all."

6. Name one book that everyone should HAVE to read before graduating from high school?

"Your Erroneous Zones by Wayne Dyer. It will help teenagers (or anyone for that matter) understand themselves better."

7. What was your first job?

“I'm not sure if it was my paper route or the summer job I had at the local YMCA in Laconia helping with the summer camp kids. My first library job was for a single summer at the UNH library in the acquisitions department helping to research orders for new books placed by UNH professors.”

8. If you could have lunch with anyone in the world, who would it be and why?

“I'm tempted to say the President, so I could give him a piece of my mind, but I'd probably be so nervous I wouldn't be able to eat! I can't really think of anyone famous I'm just dying to meet, so give me lunch with my family or friends, or else a quiet spot with a good book, and I'll be happy.”

9. Name one thing or item that you wish the library had.

“It's a tossup between more staff and more space. Can I have both?”

10. If you were stranded on a deserted island, what are three things you would want with you?

“A satellite phone, a GPS system, and a camera to take a few pictures while I awaited my rescue.”

Thank you, Bill, for taking time out of your busy day to answer these questions. The library's website that Bill has mentioned is fabulous. You can find everything from marriage records to events happening in Hampton and so much more. Visit it at

Reading Logs Now Available for Children of Friends

Don't forget to pick up a reading log for your child or grandchild the next time you're at the library. This is a monthly drawing for members' children only. You simply complete the number of hours the child has read (or been read to) and bring it back to the Children's Room to be entered in for the month.
